

Nicky Johnston

AUTHOR & ILLUSTRATOR

Nicky's presentations are hands-on illustration workshops. Her delivery style is flexible, adaptable and able to suit any location or audience.

Her extensive teaching skills and passion about drawing enable her to build instant raport with students and engage them immediately.

She runs presentations for all year levels Prep to Year 6, with all students (and teachers!) participating in fun drawing activities.

Nicky is available to visit schools any time throughout the year, but Book Week term is a very busy time, so make sure you book your preferred date as early as possible.

> "The students absolutely loved it! They were spell bound by your drawings and amazed when their artwork looked similar to yours. You had them engaged throughout the entire session. They were so facinated by you." ~ Strathaird Primary School
